Join Team Dr. Peter in the Scotiabank Charity Challenge

Spring 2011

For more information on any of the stories or events in this issue, please visit www.drpeter.org or call 604.331.5086.

Get ready for a fantastic fundraising event!

Less is more when it comes to organizing fundraising events for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation. A well known event promoter, the Hangout was a perfect fit. “When we came up with the idea of doing an event fundraise, immediately this was the perfect way that I could contribute. TheHangoutallowed me to use my talents to bring the community together and make a difference.”

This year, Perry and Ricardo were joined in organizing the event by Trevor Loke, the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation’s new Development and Sustainability Officer, and Ricardo Coral – two successful young professionals who care passionately about HIV/AIDS in the community.

“This year, Perry and Ricardo were joined in organizing the event by Trevor Loke, the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation’s new Development and Sustainability Officer, and Ricardo Coral – two successful young professionals who care passionately about HIV/AIDS in the community.”

The second annual Hangout event was a huge success!

Now in its second year, the Hangout raises funds for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promotes awareness about HIV/AIDS in the community.

The Hangout was started last year by Perry Builder and Ricardo Cord — two successful young professionals who approached the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation with the idea for the event. “In very passionate about making a difference in my community,” Perry explains. “The work that the Dr. Peter Centre does is really in line with my values and if I could do something an event to benefit the Centre would be a great opportunity.”

The Hangout mosaic is a piece of large purpose. “I think it’s important that gay men in our demographic take our place in conversations about HIV/AIDS and in terms of fighting for basic things like civil rights, visibility and the right to love their lives free of discrimination or stigma. I think the Hangout encourages guys to reflect on their shared history and feel grateful for the advantages people in my social network to the important work the Centre does.”

For more information on the story or event in this issue, please visit www.drpeter.org or call 604.331.5086.

Spring 2011

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 11TH IS PASSIONS

MARK YOUR CALENDARS

October 30, 2011

SUNDAy, SePTEmBeR 11Th IS PASSIoNs

Get in Touch

To purchase tickets, please visit www.drpeter.org or call 604.331.5086.

Get ready for a fantastic fundraising event!

Less is more when it comes to organizing fundraising events for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation. A well known event promoter, the Hangout was a perfect fit. “When we came up with the idea of doing an event fundraise, immediately this was the perfect way that I could contribute. TheHangoutallowed me to use my talents to bring the community together and make a difference.”

This year, Perry and Ricardo were joined in organizing the event by Trevor Loke, the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation’s new Development and Sustainability Officer, and Ricardo Coral – two successful young professionals who care passionately about HIV/AIDS in the community.

“The second annual Hangout event was a huge success!

Now in its second year, the Hangout raises funds for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promotes awareness about HIV/AIDS in the community.

The Hangout was started last year by Perry Builder and Ricardo Cord — two successful young professionals who approached the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation with the idea for the event. “In very passionate about making a difference in my community,” Perry explains. “The work that the Dr. Peter Centre does is really in line with my values and if I could do something an event to benefit the Centre would be a great opportunity.”

The Hangout mosaic is a piece of large purpose. “I think it’s important that gay men in our demographic take our place in conversations about HIV/AIDS and in terms of fighting for basic things like civil rights, visibility and the right to love their lives free of discrimination or stigma. I think the Hangout encourages guys to reflect on their shared history and feel grateful for the advantages people in my social network to the important work the Centre does.”

For more information on the story or event in this issue, please visit www.drpeter.org or call 604.331.5086.
Inspiring Achievements

For Jay, the Dr. Peter Centre has been a place of acceptance— and a place where he learned to care for himself again. “I first started coming in 2004. After another Dr. Peter Centre client told me I could get good meals, see nurses, get counseling, go on outings and do artwork, I really explored. I remember when I saw the art studio for the first time. I thought, ‘This is pretty cool.’ People were getting ready for the Pride Parade and they asked me to join and I really liked that.”

For Jay, the acceptance he found at the Dr. Peter Centre was a motivation to keep going back to it. Jay is from the Piikani Nation and grew up in the Blackfoot way. His grandfather taught him that there is not a right and wrong path for Jay to follow in practice. “One night after we had sex he told me that he was HIV-positive. My whole life flashed before my eyes. The next day, he dumped me.” Jay says. “I graduated, my girlfriend came back to Canada with me and I wasn’t ready to tell her that I didn’t have the same way I drank and did drugs to push it away, but I didn’t realize the monster I had needed inside of me. We moved in and I told her that I had been going through a crisis and I was ready to start. So this is my story. I am a place where he learned to be himself again. For his project, Dr. Peter Centre client Anthony wanted to explain the role that the Dr. Peter Centre has played in his life, as quoted below.

“I couldn’t imagine being who I am without this place.”

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

On March 2, the BBC Foundation (led by SUSIES) to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre's Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

On March 12, the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation hosted a gala in the M·A·C AIDS Fund and M·A·C Cosmetics. The M·A·C AIDS Fund has provided crucial funding for the Dr. Peter Centre’s Food Care Clinic and the Women’s Outreach Program.

On March 9, Liberty Wine Merchants & Diageo’s Restaurant & Bar provided the food at the “Life is a Beach” Spring Tasting event to benefit the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation. We thank them for organizing such an incredible evening of food and wine to support programs and services at the Dr. Peter Centre.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

On March 2, the BBC Foundation (led by SUSIES) to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre's Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

On March 2, the BBC Foundation (led by SUSIES) to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre's Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For the second year in a row, a win for Dr. Peter Centre! An anonymous donor contributed $50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sinclair Tate, John Webber, Maureen Davis, Susie McLean, Gerald Clark, Rebert Hart.

You can donate your Shoppers optimum reward points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.
“I couldn’t imagine being who I am without this place.”

For Jay, the Dr. Peter Centre has been a place of acceptance and a place where he learned to be himself again. “I first started coming in 2004. After another Dr. Peter Centre client told me I could get good meals, see nurses, get counseling, go on outings and do art work, I rejoined. I remember when I was at the art studio for the first time, I thought, ‘This is pretty cool.” People were getting ready for the Pride Parade and they asked me to join me; I really liked that for Jay, the acceptance he found at the Dr. Peter Centre was a milestone of his journey. Jay was born in the Piikani Nation and grew up in the countryside outside of Pincher Creek, Alberta. His grandfather taught him that there is not a right or wrong way to express your sexuality. However, this was a tough path for Jay to follow.

When Jay’s parents died, his grandfather taught him that there is no right or wrong way to express your sexuality. However, this was a tough path for Jay to follow. “At college in the early 1980s in the US, I tried to fit in by going out and partying,” Jay says. “I graduated, my girlfriend came back to Canada with me, and I broke up with her. I told my grandfather that I didn’t feel that the same way I drank and did drugs to push people away, but I didn’t realize the monster I had inside. I got really comfortable with the monsters inside of me I hated because I was so afraid of being who I was.” Jay survived.

Today, Jay is flourishing. In the last seven years, Jay has become really comfortable with the monsters inside of me. It was 1987. Lacking effective medication and support services, many people with HIV/AIDS passed away in the late 1980s and early 1990s. Thankfully, the Dr. Peter Centre has been a place of acceptance for Jay and many other HIV/AIDS clients. The next day, he dumped me.” Jay says. “I first started coming here in 2004, and every day I learned more and more about myself.”

Jay found sobriety, then he met someone new and romance blossomed. Shortly after that, Jay started dating his new girlfriend. Today, Jay is a flourishing client of the Dr. Peter Centre. Besides counseling and support services, many people with HIV/AIDS were willing to share their experiences with Jay to help him continue his journey with HIV/AIDS in a positive way. Jay is ready for the Pride Parade and they asked me to join me; I really liked that. It’s given me the opportunity to continue my journey with HIV/AIDS in a positive way. I feel very safe and secure at the Dr. Peter Centre. It’s given me the opportunity to be myself.”

For Jay, the Dr. Peter Centre has been a place of acceptance and a place where he learned to be himself again. “I first started coming in 2004. After another Dr. Peter Centre client told me I could get good meals, see nurses, get counseling, go on outings and do art work, I rejoined. I remember when I was at the art studio for the first time, I thought, ‘This is pretty cool.” People were getting ready for the Pride Parade and they asked me to join me; I really liked that.

On March 11, the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation hosted clients from the M·A·C AIDS Fund and M·A·C Cosmetics. The M·A·C AIDS Fund has been a generous supporter of the Foundation since the Dr. Peter Centre opened. M·A·C Cosmetics regularly volunteer their time and expertise to the Dr. Peter Centre.

On June 25th, Liberty Wine Merchants & Di Orio’s Restaurant & Bar hosted an evening of wine to support programs and services at the Dr. Peter Centre.

The Dr. Peter Centre has in all cases of one’s life become a passion, a passion towards a meaningful direction, a mantra to the raising of me and my daughter and my son.” — Anthony

Inspiring Achievements

On April 20, John deC. Evans, the Chair of the Board of Directors of the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation received a British Columbia Community Achievement Award.

On March 2, the BBC Foundation designed £50,000 to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years.

On March 2, the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation hosted clients from the M·A·C AIDS Fund and M·A·C Cosmetics. The M·A·C AIDS Fund has been a generous supporter of the Foundation since the Dr. Peter Centre opened. M·A·C Cosmetics regularly volunteer their time and expertise to the Dr. Peter Centre.

This year, the students and clients exhibited their work at two different galleries. From left to right: Jonathan Yoshida (M·A·C Cosmetics), Tam Ho (M·A·C AIDS Fund), Marko Novosel, and Darcy Madrigga (M·A·C Cosmetics).
Inspiring Achievements

For Jay, the Dr. Peter Centre has been a place of acceptance – a place where he learned to be himself again.

“I first started coming in 2004. After another Dr. Peter Centre client told me I could get good meals, see nurses, get counseling, go on outings and do art work, I relayed, ‘I remember when I was in the art studio for the first time, I thought, ‘This is pretty cool. People were getting ready for the Pride Parade and they asked me to join in – I really liked that!’ For Jay, the acceptance he found at the Dr. Peter Centre was a revelation of hope. Jay’s mom and dad grew up in the countryside outside of Pincher Creek, Alberta. His grandfather raised him in the Southwest of Af.

It was also his grandfather who first explored the Jay the meaning of the Two-Spirit tradition. His grandfather taught him that there is not a right way or a wrong way when it comes to sexuality. However, this was a tough rediscovery of his past. Jay is from the Jay found sobriety, then he met someone new and romance blossomed, firstly. “One night after we had sex he told me he was HIV-positive. My whole life flashed before my eyes. The next day, he dumped me.” Jay tells.

Jay today. Today, he is flourishing. In the last seven years, he has never relied on the Dr. Peter Centre. “I’ve become more comfortable with the counselling. And the Centre opened for weekends, I could see what the opportunity was for me to continue my journey with HEALING in a positive way. I feel very safe and secure at the Dr. Peter Centre. It’s given me the opportunity to be myself!”

On March 2, the BBC Foundation pledged £150k to help fund the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs over three years. Photo, from left to right: Sarina McKenzie, Gerald Choy, Raquel Hunt.

On March 23, the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation hosted artists from the M∙A∙C Aids Fund and M∙A∙C Cosmetics. The M∙A∙C Aids Fund has provided crucial funding for the Dr. Peter Centre’s Food Care Clinic and the Women’s Outreach Program.

On March 9, Liberty Wine Merchants & O’Dea’s Restaurant & Bar hosted clients of the Dr. Peter Centre in a Spring Tasting event to benefit the Dr. Peter Centre’s Food Care Clinic and the Women’s Outreach Program. For the second year in a row, the Dr. Peter Centre Art & Music Therapy programs opened for the Dr. Peter Centre’s Art & Music Therapy programs.

You can donate your Shoppers Optimum Points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

Donating your points is easy – visit www.shoppersoptimum.schne and click on Donate Now.

Donating your points to the Dr. Peter Centre Foundation.

For his project, Dr. Peter Centre client Anthony wanted to explain the role that the Dr. Peter Centre has in all aspects of our life become a positive step toward a meaningful existence most evident in the reuniting of me and my daughter and my son.” — Anthony

“For Jay, the Dr. Peter Centre has been a place of acceptance – a place where he learned to be himself again.”

Jay and with an Amazing Grace member in the Dr. Peter Centre’s art studio.
"I don’t run – I walk," says Chris Cross with a business-like laugh. "As a volunteer at the Dr. Peter Centre, the Scotiabank Charity Challenge helped me put my best foot forward for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and a chance to raise money for the Dr. Peter Centre. I was approached by the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and got to work out Stanley Park for a little fresh fitness.

Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and to get outside for some good clean air. Dr. Peter was my cousin.”

TELUS DAY OF GIVING

TELUS has hosted the TELUS Day of Giving to lend a hand in communities.

On Saturday, May 29, a large group of TELUS team members, including volunteers, LGBT employees and their families, volunteered to help improve communities. The hard work and a tremendous impact in our communities are always a great display of service and for our clients. A big thank you to everyone who volunteered for this event.

Message from the Executive Director

On May 10th, the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation was in the Supreme Court of Canada on an intervention in support of supervised injection sites for people who use drugs. We were there because the outcome will significantly influence Canadian HIV prevention, care, and treatment strategies. Over the years, the Court will release its decision in one of the most important cases of our time, which will affect the lives of so many people.

As most of you know, the Dr. Peter Centre is the world’s first supervised injection service since 2002 when the College of Physicians and Surgeons of British Columbia, under the leadership of Dr. Tom Hilbert, confirmed for us that it was within the scope of our constitution. We welcome the confirmation of our model of integrating supervised injection into a broad range of health care services that has made locally, nationally, and internationally.

A recent report from the Office of the Canadian HIV/AIDS Intervention (OCHAI) found that “injecting drugs is a significant risk factor for HIV transmission among people who use drugs.” The OCHAI report, along with other evidence, shows that the removal of supervised injection services should be expanded in BC, ideally by the end of 2014. Recommendations for Further Action, including the inclusion of full medical and psychological benefits of supervised injection services were clearly and access to supervised injection services should be expanded in BC, ideally by the end of 2014. Recommendations for Further Action, including the inclusion of full medical and psychological benefits of supervised injection services were clearly demonstrated and access to supervised injection services should be expanded in BC, ideally by the end of 2014.

One of our core strategies is to build a knowledge transfer program so that we can effectively share our knowledge with other health care organizations interested in providing similar programs.

On behalf of the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation, Board of Directors, staff, volunteers, and especially the Dr. Peter Centre residents and day health program participants, thank you for your generosity and support.

Dr. Peter Centre

30 Years

The Cornerstone was produced through the generous participation of:

Dr. Peter Centre
1110 Comox Street Vancouver, BC
V6H 1E5

Please donate generously

For more information on the Sco tiabank Charity Challenge, please visit donating-

Join Team Dr. Peter in the Scotiabank Charity Challenge

SPRING 2011

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 11TH IS PASSIONS

Get ready for a fantastic fundraising event!

Passions, known as Vancouver’s “Best Small Grill”, brings together two major city thefts for an astronomical evening of eating and auctioning. Don’t miss this special Sunday evening of Passion with new restaurants, auction items and entertainment.

To purchase tickets, please visit www.dptex.ca or call 604.331.5086

The second annual Hangout event was a huge success!

New in its second year, the Hangout raises funds for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promotes awareness about HIV/AIDS in the community. This year, the Hangout featured some of the city’s most celebrated DJs for an afternoon T-dance at the Helm on June 5th.

The event was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community.

The Hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community.

The second annual Hangout event was a huge success!

New in its second year, the Hangout raises funds for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promotes awareness about HIV/AIDS in the community. This year, the Hangout featured some of the city’s most celebrated DJs for an afternoon T-dance at the Helm on June 5th.

The Hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community. The hangout was started last year by Perry Boldt and Ricardo Coral in order to raise money for the Dr. Peter AIDS Foundation and promote awareness of HIV/AIDS in the community.
Join Team Dr. Peter in the Scotiabank Charity Challenge

For Chris, the Scotiabank Charity Challenge is a fantastic way to support a cause she feels so passionately about. “For me, it’s a cause that’s very close to home – Dr. Peter was my vector.”

Dr. Peter Jayson Young was a young, gay physician who was diagnosed with HIV/AIDS in 1986. When he became too sick to practice medicine, he worked to share the public’s perception of HIV/AIDS through a weekly diary series on CBC TV.

May 21st is the 30th anniversary of the first reported cases of what we now know to be HIV/AIDS. While there has been great progress in the scope of nursing practice. We are documenting and assessing strategies for years to come. The date of the missed diagnosis of December 2005, found that people with HIV/AIDS were diagnosed at a rate of 5.2 per 100,000. In 2011, the rate fell to 4.3 per 100,000. The rate of missed diagnoses varies significantly across Canada, from 3.9 per 100,000 in BC to 5.7 per 100,000 in New Brunswick.

In 2016, the Missed Diagnosis Task Force was established by the Canadian Society for Infectious Diseases and the Canadian Institutes of Health Research. The task force was established to improve the diagnosis of HIV/AIDS in Canada. The task force was composed of experts in infectious diseases, primary care, and public health.

The task force recommended that health care providers should be trained to recognize the signs and symptoms of HIV/AIDS. The task force also recommended that health care providers should be trained to order appropriate diagnostic tests. The task force recommended that health care providers should be trained to order appropriate diagnostic tests.

The task force recommended that health care providers should be trained to recognize the signs and symptoms of HIV/AIDS. The task force also recommended that health care providers should be trained to order appropriate diagnostic tests. The task force recommended that health care providers should be trained to order appropriate diagnostic tests.

The task force recommended that health care providers should be trained to recognize the signs and symptoms of HIV/AIDS. The task force also recommended that health care providers should be trained to order appropriate diagnostic tests. The task force recommended that health care providers should be trained to order appropriate diagnostic tests.